MESSAGE

I am pleased to note that in line with the directives of the Central Vigilance Commission, SPMCIL is observing Vigilance Awareness Week-2019 from 28.10.2019 to 01.11.2019 on the theme 'Integrity-a way of life'. In today's changing and highly competitive world living ethically and with integrity is very important. Integrity is not just important on a personal level, it is vitally important at a professional level. Integrity improves trust and develops long term relationships. Thus observance of such Vigilance Week should generate enough questions to the relevance of Integrity in life and should help us to introspect as to where we are moving towards both personally & professionally.

I am happy to know that number of activities have been planned during the Vigilance Awareness Week 2019 on this year's theme through debate, essays, poster competition and inter-quiz competitions in offices. Further, various outreach activities in schools & colleges have also been planned to ensure that ethical values are passed on to minds of younger generation who are the future assets of the country and it is important to cultivate moral values in them. This would ensure a generation with ethical values leading to a honest society.

I would also urge our vigilance section to consider more preventive vigilance which are the lynchpin of our efforts for good governance.

All the best !
